Roundtable – overview speakers

- Geert Teisman (/NWO-VIDI; VerDuS, SURF)
need for ID/MD, to solve ‘wicked problems’, but the wickedness is also in the evaluation and execution; ID in excellence science calls doesn’t work: disciplinary structures are stronger embedded in academic world than ID, MD;
- RistoVikko (AKA)
definition ID derived from ESF; no specific funding for ID, however, implicitly needed to take up societal challenges; ID is no goal in itself; quality & feasibility equally important in evaluation
- Carolien Maas (NWO-SURF)
SURF is truly ID & MD; evaluation by dual panels (same weight); project formation helped by network manager and matchmaking; real program mgt. new instruments under developments
- Arjan van Binsbergen (JPI UE)
ID/MD/Co-creation in the core of JPI UE; terms in glossary; challenges to appeal to all target groups and evaluate fairly; use of mixed panels; two-step approach allows emphasis on innovativeness; various interwoven challenges
- Hans Günther Schwarz (BMVIT, ENSCC)
GSCs need new forms of R&I funding; need for ID/MD and a mission; need for facilitate dialogue between MD parties; need for long-term strategy

Roundtable – overview speakers

- Geert Teisman (/EUR; P31; program execution)

it takes one year to learn each others language; people matter; effective ID/MD needs 'attractors'; ID in ID/MD projects, but D once at home base...; need for flexible granting schemes.

- Frederico Savini (UvA)

effective ID/MD needs appropriate funding scheme/frameworks; using a central framework helps ID, but flexibility needed to accommodate different views; having a (spatial) case helps to focus and to collaborate; need for/use of feedback loops, reflective practices; need for intermediaries.

- Mirjama Milanovic (AMS)

workshops helps to bridge differences between ID/MD groups; different timelines, scopes in practice and science, interpretations and dependency of external actors; involvement of more disciplines needed; more variety in funding schemes needed.

- Christof Schremmer (VIE)

involvement of stakeholders in important; original forms to conceptualise conclusions work quite well (cartoonist); GSC often need a holistic approach, but can be hampered by institutional and legal barriers.

Need to radically rethink funding cycle – need for both shorter and much longer running / follow up schemes.
